"This sheet of water surely is a gem!"
Thus sang one of the Congressmen,
While standing on Pearl Harbor's palm decked shore,
Is it worth guarding—will you tell us then?

XI.
"Of earthly joys, give me our own land!"
The major spoke, but listen to him now:
"I meant no wrong, but if I do survive,
I'll never, never start another row!"

The car was stalled three miles from New Rochelle.
Some fifty bachelors hauled it out and well.
The biggeman reached his blushing hide in time,
Were bachelors friends or foes? The cable fails to tell.

XII.
Five hundred thousand earthwires we must pay,
For special tariff session, so they say,
At Gold Beach, accept apologies,
For saying you had long since had your day!

A charming affair in every respect was the garden party given by Governor and Mrs. Walter F. Egan at "Avalon" in honor of the visiting Congressmen and their wives yesterday afternoon. The spacious grounds of the gubernatorial mansion were tastefully decorated for the occasion with myriads of bright-colored signal flags strung in festoons from tree to tree; American flags were draped over the entrances to the residence while on the lawn a pretty back ground for the receiving party was formed by two huge American flags hung from the branches of nearby trees and nimbly looped up in the center. Mrs. Egan, in a charming white frock and dainty French bonnet trimmed with baby pink roses and turquoise ribbon, received the Governor and the following well known ladies informally assisted in receiving the guests and introducing the ladies of the Congressional party to Honolulu society: Mrs. Sanford B. Dole, Mrs. Francis M. Hatch, Mrs. R. E. Dillingham, Mrs. Samuel W. Dunning, Mrs. C. P. Hemerway, Mrs. E. Farren Bishop, Mrs. George W. Woodruff, Mrs. C. P. Rees, Mrs. George R. Carter, Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder, Mrs. George K. Hunter and Mrs. W. L. Wilder. Mrs. J. P. Erdman presided at the punchbowl and was the centre of a little circle of friends throughout the afternoon. She was attractive as usual in a lovely frock of satin batiste with nine colored trimmings and stunning picture hat.

Mrs. Frizze Past Worthy Matron of Lei Aloha Chapter No. 3 C. E. S., entertained on Friday evening of last week in honor of Robert Morris, the founder of the C. E. S., at his residence on Nuuanu avenue. In the early part of the evening Mr. A. Pratt, P. W. P., made a few remarks on the life of Robert Morris, and a musical program was rendered by Mrs. Felker, Miss Freda Klein, Mrs. Well, Miss Edith Pratt and Mr. Walter Klein, after which progressive pedro was played, the dead prize being won by Miss Edith Pratt and Mr. Neal. Mrs. Wolf winning the booby prize. The decorations were very elaborate, the parlor being arranged with the colors of the Chapter. A large star was placed over one of the doors, and the name Robert Morris done in purple and gold underneath the sides of the doorway being draped with the American flag, making a very effective design. The color scheme in one of the card rooms was yellow and in the other red. The dining table looked charming, being decorated with red carnations and maiden-hair ferns. Delightful refreshments were served about 10:30. Those invited were: Mr. Pratt, P. W. P., and Mrs. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Neal, Captain and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Francis, Mr. and Mrs. Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Klein, Miss Jessie Thompson, Miss Edith Pratt, Miss Freda Klein, Miss Gladys Pratt, Miss Murde Francis, Mrs. Remesman, Mr. and Mrs. Coulter, Senator and Mrs. H. T. Moore, Mr. C. Strom, Mr. A. E. Welbourn, Mr. and Mrs. Meneghelli, Mr. and Mrs. Wellbourn, Mr. and Mrs. Well, Mr. Duncan, Mr. Holmes, Mr. Keicheson, Mr. and Mrs. de Ron, Capt. and Mrs. Reilly, Mrs. L. de Ron, Mr. and Mrs. Ham, Mr. and Mrs. Felker, Mr. Walter Klein, Capt. Johnson, Mr. Clark, Mr. Ernest Welbourn, and Mr. Carl. After thanking Mr. and Mrs. Frizze for a most enjoyable evening the guests took their departure at a late hour in buses, which had been provided for them by the host and hostess to take them to the cars.

"Barn Dance" which was given Friday evening of last week at the Potter Country Club, situated on the beautiful Hope's ranch, near Santa Barbara, was one of the most elaborate and original affairs of the season. It is of more than passing interest to us inasmuch as it was given in compliment to one of our pretty debutantes of last winter, Miss Harriet Alexander, who was the guest of Mrs. Potter's daughter, Miss Nina Jones. The club house was converted into a New England farm house—and the typical scene was made of bales of hay about the grounds which served as seats, and along the driveway, improvised hay stacks were used to support lanterns, while the hull and rafters were adorned with pumpkins, corn stalks and cabbage flowers and fruit. Outside the barn doors were cracks of cedar, while unique refreshments consisting of pies, doughnuts, graham bread and cold chicken were served the merry guests. The barn dance, old fashioned reels, a grand march for supper and the almost forgetting square dance were part of the programme. Mr. and Mrs. Milo M. McLachlan is a Stanford Junior and a popular member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph B. Spreckels are rejoicing at the advent of a baby heiress at their summer home in Sausalito. Both mother and daughter are doing well, the baby being reported to have a fine pair of lungs and a robust appetite.

The wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Spreckels was a romantic affair. Early last year Mr. Spreckels went East and was followed shortly after by Miss Alma De Breyville of this city. They met by appointment in Philadelphia, and were quietly married at the home of the bride's aunt. Then they spent a few months traveling in Europe. The wedding took place in May, 1908, and about a week or two later the Philadelphia newspapers got hold of the news, and the marriage became known, for the first time to Mr. Spreckels' family in this city. Congratulations were in order and now congratulations are being extended once more to the happy parents.—Call.

Civil Engineer Parks, U. S. N. and Mrs. Parks entertained in a charming manner at dinner at the Alexander Young Hotel on Tuesday evening, in honor of the Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, U. S. N. and Mrs. Hollyday. The table was attractive with a profusion of American Beauty roses entwined with beautiful feather ferns, and the guests places were indicated by dainty cards representing Hawaiian girls. The guests were: Admiral and Mrs. Hollyday, Major Ray, U. S. A. and Mrs. Ray, Captain Falls, U. S. A. and Mrs. Falls, Miss Fear, and Assistant Civil Engineer Burrell, U. S. N.

While the visiting Congressmen were being banqueted last evening in the Colonial room at the Hotel St. Francis, the ladies of the Congressional party were entertained in the blue room of the hotel by a coterie of the California club women who acted as the evening's hosts. Later the feminine members of the party tilted the boxes on either side of the Colonial room and listened to the speeches. Mrs. O. D. Baldwin was mounted in her pleasant duties by Messmates McMasters, A. D. Black, Lowell White, Louisa Hertz, Dorothy Kline, James McNab and Julius Kahn.—S. F. Examiner, Aug. 24th.

Miss Haldee Glasscock of Los Angeles who has been a teacher in the public schools of the Angel city and has been spending her vacation in Honolulu has become so enamored of the charms of the island city that she has accepted a position in the primary department of Oahu College and will make the Islands her home for a time. Miss Barnes, who accompanied Miss Glasscock to Honolulu and has been extensively entertained during her stay here, leaves by the Alameda for her home to the regret of many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Thurston of Baines street have had as their house guests the past week Congressman James MacEachan and his beautiful young daughter, Miss Anita McLachlan, who is one of the most charming and attractive of the young women included Judge and Mrs. Lindsay, of Honolulu, Miss Mabel Barnes and Miss Glasscock of Los Angeles.

Louis J. Warren of the law firm of Smith, Lewis and Warren, left on the Turline for a two months' eastern trip. He will be for a short time with his parents and little daughter in Berkeley, later going to Philadelphia and Washington and other eastern points.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. V. Foster are the guests of Mr. Foster's mother, Mrs. T. J. King while their home in Manoa Valley is being built. The pretty bungalow Mr. and Mrs. Foster are planning will probably be completed by October 1st.
